Dear friends New-England Octob^r 1771
 I have been thinking of writing to you for some time but have been so busy that I could not find time to do so. I am now at home and have some leisure. I am well and hope these few lines will find you the same. I have not much news to write at present. I am, however, very affectionately attached to you and your family.
 I am, dear friends, your ever affectionate friend and brother,
 John Adams
